

THE EVENT SAFE WORKSHOP

REPUTATION

Is everything,
What are you doing to Protect yours?

In the constantly evolving world of festivals and events, operational safety and your ability to proactively cover all of your operational risks is of paramount importance. The Event Safe Workshop covers over 50 of what we call 'street level' operational considerations and is delivered for event professionals by event professionals. Knowing what to cover, how to cover it and how to present it is where we come in. The Event Safe Workshop can be applied to any size or genre of festival or event anywhere in the world.

The Event Safe Workshop

THE EVENT SAFE WORKSHOP:

The workshop is run over a full day and covers over 50 key operational risk considerations that should be documented and actioned by all genre of festival or event.

Areas covered include medical, communications, contingency planning, disaster preparedness/recovery and policies and procedures for your specific genre of festival or event.

Applicable health, safety and risk management compliance is covered in detail. It should be noted that while health and safety forms part of the day it is event specific and not generalist in content.

Acknowledging event folk are 'doers', the facilitation is highly interactive, a mixture of breakouts, group sessions, Q & A and power point. Workshop flexibility allows time to ebb and flow delivery to meet specific individual or group needs.

Recognising festivals and events are unique operational environments that can't be catered for by a general business approach, our facilitator; who like you; is an event professional that understands and speaks your language.

Our facilitator is recognised as a global operational risk management professional, an experienced event practitioner and is an internationally Certified Festival and Event Executive issued by the International Festivals and Events Association.

In addition to industry best practice, the workshop content acknowledges the following safety standards; ISO 19011, ISO 45001, BS OHSAS 18001, AS/NZ 4801 and HSWA2015.

WHO WILL BENEFIT:

Writing and implementing operational safety plans is a complex business.

Striking the balance between knowing what should be included in safety documentation and how to present it to achieve compliance and optimum safety can also be confusing.

The Event Workshop clears away this confusion providing the tools and knowledge to generate industry standard safety plans.

If you're unsure of what to put into event safety documentation, or how to write a cohesive plan, the workshop will provide you with the tools and knowledge you need, giving you the assurance you are on the right track.

If your organisation requires you to critique or review event safety documentation, you will benefit from knowing what to look for and how it should be presented.

If you are wishing to increase your knowledge or confirm your current documentation meets industry standards and compliance, you will benefit from attending.

It is also an excellent medium for local and central government entities wishing to bring all of their regular contributors under one roof for upskilling and ensure a high standard of uniform safety across regional portfolios.

EVENT SAFE WORKSHOP INVESTMENT

The workshop is based on a minimum group rate of $2,400 for up to ten participants. Additional participants to a maximum of 20 are $200 each.

Additional disbursements for venue/travel/meals and accommodation where applicable.
